TO-DAY and Monday, September 4, will be feature days at the Country Club. The biggest golf tournaments of the year are to be played these two days—to-day for the individual championship of Virginia and one Monday all the cities of the State who are fortunate to have golf courses will participate in a team match for a State cup. The teams began to arrive yesterday, and will put up at the club as far as the sleeping accommodations of the club permit.

On Monday the association dinner will be given at 1:30 to all the teams entered, and at 7 o'clock the association meeting will be held.

Members of the club are looking forward to meeting many out-of-town friends, and a general lively and interesting two days is expected.

Music and dancing Monday night begins at half-past 8 o'clock. A great many small dinners will be given for the different guests in town, and the entertaining at the clubhouse will be unusually attractive.

VERDICT OF GUILTY AGAINST HODGES

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Roanoke, Va., September 1.—Fifteen years in the penitentiary was the sentence passed upon Lewis Hodges at Fincastle to-day. The wheels of justice moved swiftly in Botetourt county, and this was clearly demonstrated this morning when a jury filed into court with a verdict of guilty against Lewis Hodges, who was on trial for attempted attack, committed near Buchanan, Saturday night, August 26, upon Miss Pauline Johnson, the fifteen-year-old daughter of the president of the Bank of Buchanan. There was no delay or hitch in the trial, and the young man charged with the crime, was indicted by the grand jury two days after his arrest, and convicted five days later. He was moved from Botetourt to Fincastle for safekeeping.

Hodges, who is but twenty years old, had been drinking heavily the night of the crime, and this is said to have driven him to his madness. The case was heard by Judge Anderson, of the Circuit Court, the case being called Wednesday morning. He was represented by Attorney Benjamin Hayden, who failed to note an appeal this morning before Judge Anderson passed the sentence. The case went to the jury last night.

Miss Johnson, the victim, is a beautiful girl, and her parents are among the leading people of Botetourt county and live about half a mile outside of the town limits of Buchanan. When she was attacked there was a crowd at the depot, and they heard her screams. Hodges is a son of David Hodges and before this enjoyed a good reputation.

FIVE HOTTER AUGUSTS
Month Just Closed Was Far From a Record-Breaker.

Those who have sweltered through the thirty-one days of August doubtless will be surprised when they read that since the Weather Department began keeping records, back in 1880, there have been five hotter Augusts, and as many whose average temperatures reached just the same figure, 78 degrees. It has been hot enough, however, the highest temperature having been 97 on the 15th. The greatest daily range was on the 15th, the maximum went as low as 58.

As to precipitation, the total rainfall for the month is put down as 7.28 inches, 5.03 inches of this having fallen on the last two days. The prevailing direction of the wind was south, with a total movement of 1,879 miles at an average rate of 8 1/2 miles per hour, the maximum velocity being forty-two miles per hour on the 25th.

During the month there were eleven clear days, fifteen partly cloudy, cloudy, and fourteen on which there was 0.1 or more inches of rainfall. Fourteen thunder storms were recorded.

LAYING OF CORNER-STONE OF NEW METHODIST CHURCH

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Harrisonburg, Va., September 1.—This morning at 10:30 o'clock the corner-stone of the new Harrisonburg Methodist Church, on South Main Street was laid under Masonic auspices, with Most Worshipful William B. McChesney, of Staunton, grand master of Masons in Virginia, as master of ceremonies. A procession of Masons, members and officials of the Methodist Church, marched from the old church to the site of the new.

After the laying of the stone prayer was offered by Rev. B. W. Bond, D. D., of Staunton, followed by Scripture reading by Rev. H. D. Harper, of Roanoke, and an address by Dr. N. D. Mitchell, of Lexington.

The new church, when completed, will cost about $60,000, and will be one of the handsomest in the Valley. It is modeled largely after Epworth Church in Norfolk. The present pastor is Rev. H. H. Sherman.

LOW RATES MADE ON GROUND LIME
Railroads Readily Concede Cheap Tariff to Farmers of Virginia.

GOVERNOR WINS HIS POINT
New Tariff, to Be Announced Later, Will Be About Half-Cent Per Ton Mile.

Following a conference held in the chamber of the State Senate yesterday between Governor Mann, representatives of the farming interests and officials of every leading railway in the State, a practical agreement was reached on the question of a cheap rate for hauling ground limestone for agricultural purposes. While the new rate will approximate the tariff of one-half cent per ton per mile asked for by the Governor, the tariff will be prepared and built up with reference to long and short hauls, so that it will vary to some extent, and will, as an average, probably be a little higher than the Governor wished. It was recognized as unfair to ask a road less than five miles long to make a rate less than its switching charges.

The interest shown by the railroad men was most gratifying to Governor Mann, who called the meeting. There was thorough and cordial agreement.

all the way through, the officials of the road expressing their earnest desire to do anything for the advancement of agriculture within their power, so that it did not involve injustice to other shippers.

Leading Officials Here.
Following were the railroad men present: Norfolk and Western—President E. H. Johnson and Freight Traffic Manager S. L. Duvant; Atlantic Coast Line—President T. M. Emerson, Traffic Manager R. A. Brand and Division Freight Agent C. S. Campbell; Baltimore and Ohio—First Vice-President George F. Randolph and General Freight Traffic Manager C. S. Wright; Chesapeake and Ohio—President A. W. Stevens and General Freight Agent E. D. Hotchkiss; Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio—President Mark W. Potter and General Freight Agent J. C. Campion; Norfolk-Southern—Traffic Manager B. L. Bug; Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac and Washington-Southern—President W. H. White; Seaboard Air Line—General Freight Agent L. E. Chalenor; Southern—General Freight Agent J. H. Drake and Assistant Freight Traffic Manager G. H. Browder; Tidewater and Western—General Freight Agent F. B. Grigg; Louisville and Nashville—Traffic Manager C. B. Compton; New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk—Traffic Manager R. B. Cooke; Virginian—General Freight Agent S. M. Aditt.

B. Morgan Shepherd, of this city, was active in working up the meeting.

Governor Mann presided, and T. G. Strachan, assistant clerk of the State Corporation Commission, acted as secretary. The Governor set forth the growing demand for ground limestone to sweeten and build up the wasted lands in a large part of the State. He regretted that the lime-grinding bill in the last Legislature, which promised to recommend to the next session the establishment of three such plants at the public expense, to be operated by such convicts as could be found in the public roads. He was willing, he said, to state the success of his administration on the improvement made in the advancement of agriculture.

All Are Agreed.
Among those who spoke were Commissioners of Agriculture, George W. Kolner, Dr. Charles U. Gravitt, of Caroline; W. A. Hathaway, of the State Farmers' Institute; Westmoreland Davis, of Leesburg, president of the institute; T. O. Sandy, demonstration of the Department of Agriculture; Judge Robert R. Prentiss, of the State Corporation Commission; L. E. Johnson, president of the Norfolk and Western; Superintendent J. D. Eggleston, Jr., of the Department of Public Instruction; Warner Moore, a lime manufacturer; T. W. Emerson, of the Atlantic Coast Line, and W. H. White, of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac.

Sandy told of the immense demand for ground limestone. He said that one and three-fourths tons of this product was equal to one ton of burnt lime, whereas Mr. Moore estimated it at the rate of two to one. Mr. Sandy predicted that the first year of the operation of State-owned plants would find a market in seventy counties for 1,000 tons of the product each, and that the demand would grow enormously each year.

Rate Agreed On.
Mr. Johnson was rather non-committal at first, but held a conference with Judge Prentiss. A 73-cent rate was taken for lunch, following which Mr. Johnson presented a written report, saying that at a conference of railroad men, it had been agreed that a rate approximating that asked by the Governor had been agreed upon. But it would not be announced until after a conference with the State Corporation Commission, to protect the railroad from the application of the rate to other products.

Judge Prentiss said he could not agree to a promise by the commission governing future rates on other material, but he thought that body would consent that any other tariff would have to come up on its merits, this not being considered as a precedent.

T. S. Davant, of the Norfolk and Western, was made chairman of a committee, to be selected by himself, to work out a complete set of tariffs on ground limestone, and to plant in the State now marketing this commodity, but the rates will be a basis of cost for consideration by the Legislature on the matter of establishing publicly owned manufacturing.

All were agreed that this movement marks a new era in the agricultural development of Virginia.

ACTION AGAINST CITY OFFICIALS

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Wilmington, N. C., September 1.—Probably for the first time in the history of Wilmington the Mayor of the city was indicted and arrested. This afternoon a citizen swore out a warrant against Mayor E. B. Smith and Superintendent of Health Charles T. Nesbitt, charging them with maintaining a nuisance in allowing refuse to pile up in the city, and practically all of which have been vindicated. A certain matter of sanitation caused a howl from people of the outlying districts, who claim that the remedy is worse than the disease. It led to a mass-meeting last night, at which the councilmen, and especially the superintendent of health, were bitterly denounced, and a committee named to go before the Council with the grievance and report back to another mass-meeting.

To-day the indictment of the officials followed at the close of the meeting. The city was notified some days ago to fix the sewer, but had been unable to attend to the matter so far.

DID JONES SOLICIT CAMPAIGN FUNDS?
Flood Quotes Thompson and Ellyson to Prove That He Did.

CANDIDATE DENIES IT
Letter Read Which Shows Use of Money in First District.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Richmond, Va., September 1.—Before an audience which crowded the courtroom almost to its capacity to-night, Congressman H. D. Flood reiterated and elaborated upon his charge that Representative W. A. Jones had solicited campaign funds from S. S. Harboure Thompson, the railroad attorney, and that he had sent a telegram from Mr. Thompson, saying that Mr. Jones called at his home in Richmond in October, 1892, and acquainted him with the needs of the canvass in his district. Mr. Thompson further said that he told Mr. Jones to make known his wants to Chairman J. Taylor Ellyson.

"I am authorized," said Mr. Flood, "by Mr. Ellyson to say that Mr. Thompson gave him this money, that Mr. Jones came to him and discussed with him the distribution of it, and that it was distributed in the First District according to Mr. Jones' directions. I have in my pocket the names of the gentlemen to whom money was sent and the amounts sent them. It was wrong in Senator Martin to solicit campaign contributions from Thompson and Glasgow, why was it not equally wrong for Jones to solicit from Thompson?"

It was wrong for Martin to aid Ellyson in distributing campaign funds contributed by railroads, why was it not wrong in Jones?"

Letter by Jones.
Mr. Flood then read the following letter to Dr. Newbill, of Lancaster, which he said is not stolen, but sent by the man to whom it belongs:

"My Dear Doctor, October 29, 1892.
I enclose you my check for $100, which you will kindly use for your precinct, Kilmarnock and White Stone. I know it is not enough, but the demands upon me elsewhere have been fearful. I have sent Hathaway a check of $250, which he thinks he can use. If I do not do anything, I imagine, with Oscar Morris, and I told Oscar to look to you. I have attended to the C. H. and I am using about all I can get, but that if you should look a few dollars with which good results could be obtained, I shall have to trust to your good judgment to use it for me, that is to advance it. Of course, I cannot go very far. I go to Essex and Middleburg tomorrow and shall be on the road until the 7th."

th but wisely, I am,
Yours sincerely,
(Signed) "W. A. JONES."

"It" said Mr. Flood, "the Mr. Jones is using $125 at two precincts, in addition to that he is authorizing Dr. Newbill to use more if necessary. That is $250 to a precinct. If he used an equal amount in all the precincts in the First Congressional District it would cost $7,250 in the district, and 121 precincts in the district, and if $250 go to a precinct the amounts sent Dr. Newbill and Mr. Hathaway would aggregate this amount, without taking into consideration the amount of money that Dr. Newbill advanced upon the authorization of Mr. Jones."

Use After Election.
This brings into consideration another phase of Mr. Jones' hypocritical pretense about the use of money. When he closed his Thompson letters, which indicated that some money was paid to Mr. Ellyson after election, he wanted to know what use Mr. Ellyson had for money after the election was over. I do not suppose he inquired what use Dr. Newbill had for the money he advanced to the Governor. Mr. Jones assumed to reimburse him for after his election in 1892.

"I want to call attention to the fact that the Oscar Morris referred to in this letter was a negro political leader, and the letter shows that Mr. Jones came in close political association with Oscar, for in his letter he says, 'I told Oscar to look to you.' In the dark days when the negroes were a menace to white civilization in Virginia, as they were for thirty-three years, gentleman had to do many things that they thought were necessary to that very few nominees for Congress had to deal with negroes and buy negro leaders to secure their election."

Mr. Flood was introduced to the audience by C. O'Connor Goodrick, who predicted a majority for both Senators in Fredericksburg on September 1.

Mr. Flood referred to the services rendered the State by Senator Martin in connection with the State debt settlement, which services he rendered without compensation, and which, in the opinion of the speaker, had a great deal to do with Senator Martin's subsequent election to the Senate. Mr. Flood praised Governor Swan's administration in high terms, and said that on his record Swanson deserved an endorsement by the people.

On Ship Subsidy.
Mr. Flood attacked Mr. Jones' record on the ship subsidy bill in animated fashion, and in this connection read a letter from Congressman Moon, of Tennessee, chairman of the House Committee on Post-Office and Post Roads, dated August 26, 1911, in which Mr. Moon stated that Mr. Jones voted at one session when the ship subsidy bill was under consideration against the bill. "On the same day," says Mr. Moon, "I met him in a street car, and he denounced the bill as vicious, and that he had let the side of his son to vote against it." Further Mr. Moon states that the bill was under consideration again at the same session in substantially the same form, and Mr. Jones voted for it. Afterward, Mr. Moon states, Mr. Jones stated to him that he doubted his criticism of the action of Mr. Jones in using stolen letters and for his neglect of duty as a member of the House.

JONES MAKES DENIAL
Gives Details of Interview With J. S. B. Thompson.

Referring to the telegram from J. S. B. Thompson, Mr. Jones last night gave out the following statement:

statement: In October, 1893, I received from Mr. Thompson either a telegram or a letter (I cannot say which), asking me to come to Richmond to meet him. There was no mention in this communication of the purpose of this proposed meeting. I replied that I would be in Richmond on Saturday afternoon missed by a few minutes the train expected to take, and the next morning I arrived in Richmond about midday, in which Mr. Thompson endeavored to reach Mr. Thompson's telephone, but, failing in this, I called at his residence the following morning, which was Sunday. A few moments of general conversation, in which Mr. Thompson explained why he had not met me at the train, he broached the senatorial question and expressed his interest in candidacy of Mr. Thomas S. Martin, which I gave him to understand that I had no sympathy with Mr. Martin's candidacy, and that I was earning my living in favor of the election of Oscar Lee, and equally as earnest in my position to Mr. Martin. We had been talking but a few moments when the carriage stopped in front of the door in which Mr. Martin and a gentleman whom I did not meet, I was sitting near the front window, called Mr. Thompson's attention to the arrival of his visitor. Mr. Thompson said the gentleman with Mr. Martin was a candidate for the Legislature. I think he said on one of the Virginia counties. I at once arose and excused myself and took my departure.

Was Indignant.
"I did not upon this or any other occasion say one word to Mr. Thompson on the subject of campaign funds. I was not aware until afterwards that he was a distributor of campaign funds. He did not refer me to Ellyson for any purpose whatever, as I went straight from his house to the station, and returned to Washington, some indignation that Mr. Thompson should have called me as these I afterwards said as much as to my friends. I never visited Mr. Thompson's home upon any other occasion."

Those who recall Mr. Thompson's recent New York interview, and who celebrated Holland lottery with editorial quickly confronted him, with doubtless less amazed at his again projecting his personality into the Virginia political contest. He has a scandalous title of evidence to support his utterly untruthful statement as to what occurred between us at his home, and his produce it. He endeavors to create the impression that my visit to his home was voluntary upon my part, although he does not say so in his letter. I do not believe that he will make that direct statement.

(Signed) W. A. JONES.
